The execution of this Copyright Release allows Author(s) to retain full but non-exclusive rights in the Manuscript:

1. Licence

The Author(s) grants the Publisher the following rights:

The non-exclusive perpetual right to reproduce, publish, supply and communicate the Author's Manuscript as part of the IPI Publishing to the public, including the right to exercise the Rights and, without changing the content, to translate the Manuscript to any medium or format for the purposes of preservation. The Author(s) also agrees that the Publisher may keep more than one copy of the Manuscript for the purposes of security, backup and preservation.

2. Attribution

- (a) IPI Publishing articles will clearly identify the Author(s) as the author of the Manuscript.
- (b) The Manuscript are distributed under the Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 License, which permits Author(s) to copy, reuse, reprint, modify, distribute, transmit, and adapt their work in any medium, without obtaining permission from IPI Publishing, provided that full and appropriate credit to IPI Publishing for first publication is noted. Under the CCAL, authors retain the ownership of the copyright for their article.

3. Acknowledgements

The Author(s) acknowledges that:

- (a) they will not receive any payment from the Publisher for the grant of rights under this Copyright Release;
- (b) the Publisher may remove the Manuscript from the IPI Publishing at any time at its absolute discretion; and
- (c) they have no termination rights under this Copyright Release.

4. Warranties

The Author(s) warrants that:

- (a) the Manuscript is their original Manuscript;
- (b) they have obtained consents in writing from all previous publishers of the Manuscript to enter into this Copyright Release;
- (c) they have obtained consents in writing from third parties which have any materials reproduced in the Manuscript to publish the Manuscript;
- (d) they can grant the rights under this Copyright Release and the Publisher's exercise of those rights will not infringe the copyright or other intellectual property rights of third parties;
- (e) to the best of their knowledge, the Manuscript is accurate as at the date in which the final version of the Manuscript is submitted to the Publisher and as far as reasonably possible they have sought to verify all statements in the Manuscript which purport to be true and accurate;
- (f) to the best of their knowledge, the Manuscript does not contain any scandalous, defamatory, or obscene material or any material which is actionable for interference with privacy, infringement of copyright, breach of confidence, passing off or contravention of any other private right; and
- (g) they have not engaged in any practices in preparing the Manuscript that would amount to plagiarism or any other form of academic dishonesty or research misconduct under Publisher policies and rules or which would (or would be likely to) bring the Author(s) or the Publisher into disrepute, and that they have complied with the Publisher's policies, procedures and rules.

- (h) where the Manuscript is a thesis, a student project or coursework, it is a direct equivalent of the final officially approved version that was submitted and marked, and only minor emendation of content has occurred.

5. Breach of warranty

The Author(s) agrees to:

- (a) notify the Publisher as soon as they become aware of any circumstances relating to the breach or potential breach of a warranty in clause 4;
- (b) provide the Publisher with all reasonable assistance in relation to the conduct or defence of any legal proceedings which may be commenced by or against the Publisher in relation to the breach of a warranty in clause 5; and
- (c) indemnify the Publisher against any actions, costs or expenses arising out of the breach of a warranty in clause 5.
